Grand Re-Opening of the Jackson Conference Center at the Sangre de Cristo Arts and Conference Center followed by Community Concert with Nashville Recording Artist Emily Scott Robinson

PUEBLO, Colo. — On Colorado Day the grand re-opening of the Jackson Conference Center at the Sangre de Cristo Arts and Conference Center followed by Community Concert with free entry to those affected by the Aspen Acres fire as well as all first responders.

The Sangre de Cristo Arts Center is proud to announce our grand re-opening of the Jackson Conference Center this Saturday, August 1st, at 5 pm. Dignitaries will re-open and dedicate the Jackson and then immediately following at 6 pm, Nashville recording artist Emily Scott Robinson will perform in the theater. Those affected by the Aspen Acres fire including all first responders rendering aid and in general can attend the concert for free. Tickets can also be purchased online at <https://my.sdc-arts.org/benefitconcert> for the concert. Throughout the day on Saturday, the Arts Center is offering free admission to the Buell Children's STEAM Museum and to the Helen Thatcher White Galleries building.

Our front desk team is ready to assist by phone at our main number (719) 295-7200 x0 with details and please also dial x1 if that line is busy.

Please do see the attached flyer for general information and spread the word as this could be a welcome reprieve for many--on behalf of Sangre de Cristo Arts Center Board and Staff, we thank you! The Sangre de Cristo Arts Center is a multifaceted regional arts hub that is now in its 54th year of service. The mission is To create artistic, cultural, and educational experiences for everyone.
